Workshop Guide

Quint Paige, a licensed Marriage and Family Therapist and Registered Play Therapist and Play Therapy Supervisor, has journeyed into the sand tray hundreds of times both personally and with children, families, couples, and individual adult clients since 1997. He has trained at length in using the sand tray as well as training in Jungian sandplay since 1998. He has been published in the Sandtray Network Journal. Quint is also a special education teacher, clinical supervisor, and play therapy supervisor at the Cheerful Helpers Child and Family Study Center – a therapeutic school setting in Los Angeles, California.

Private Sessions/Consultation

Private Sand Tray Sessions (1 ½ hour per session) are available – make arrangements with Quint.

$200 for licensed clinicians

Continuing Education

This course will meet the qualifications for 6 hours of continuing education credit for MFT's and/or LCSW's as required by the California Board of Behavioral Sciences. Continuing education provided by Quint Paige, MFT, RPT-S, PCE 4348. CE Fee $10 per workshop.

About the Workshop

Get Active, Expand, and Intensify, the third small-group experiential, first prepares and lets the participants create and work with both active & dynamic sand trays as opposed to the static & stable sand trays typically created in the first two workshops. In the sand, each participant will create and explore what it's like to play vigorously. Active and lively sand trays are generally created by young children and sometimes families as opposed to the static & fixed trays of older children, adolescents, and adults. Secondly in the workshop, participants deal with helping the client move beyond what shows up in the sand tray. Helping the client explore any particular aspect of the sand tray and unconscious material brings a richer experience for client and therapist – taking the work to another level. Participants are shown how to take what is originally created and take the process even deeper – expanding & intensifying the process. In the sand, each participant will continue to create & explore deeper recesses of their own psyches. As always the therapeutic properties of Mother Earth, the empathic witness, & symbols come together to help each participant create a rich and fertile environment to experience one's own psyche that allows for healing and growth.

Learning Objectives

Participants will be able to:

- Increase personal experience in the sand tray
- Explore active/dynamic vs. static/stable sand trays
- Help the client expand and intensify what shows up in the sand tray
- Increase documentation techniques
